TIPS FOR SUMMER READING

from Mrs. McDowell - Literacy Coach

For children, summer is a time for relaxing and enjoying the pleasures of childhood. Here are some tips for making reading fun and enjoyable this summer, while also helping your child sustain reading skills:

1. Read aloud together with your child as often as possible! Make it fun by reading outdoors in the yard, patio, around town, or at the park.
2. Take books along on outings! You can enjoy reading anywhere you go this summer!
3. Take your child to the library! Participate in the library's Summer Reading Program or make a trip to the library to check out some new books.
4. Read the same book as your child and discuss it! This helps deepen your child's understanding of what he/she is reading and builds conversation skills.
5. Set a good example! Keep lots of reading material around the house and make it a point to shut off the TV and model reading behaviors for your child.
6. Allow your child to choose books for summer reading! Encourage your child to read about topics that interest him/her, look for new authors or series at the library, or listen to a new audio book.
7. Daily routines provide reading opportunities! Cooking, reading news articles, reading directions, or reading a brochure or article about a place you may be traveling during the summer can all provide authentic reading experiences.
8. Encourage your child to write about summer adventures too! Write a letter to a friend or teacher, mail a post card, or keep a journal to share summer experiences.
